

VoICE: The Value of Immunization Compendium of Evidence

Building and sustaining support for immunization has never been more important.

Evidence is a critical component to any program, advocacy effort or campaign that aims to achieve this goal, but finding the right evidence isn't always easy and can be time consuming.

Available in English and French, VoICE is a searchable database containing scientific evidence-based statements illustrating the broad benefit that immunizations have on topics such as health, equity, economics, and society, designed to help child health and immunization professionals turn evidence into impact.

The VoICE Compendium is continually updated with peer-reviewed evidence and advocacy messaging reflecting the value that vaccines have beyond direct impact on morbidity and mortality. Concepts and evidence found in VoICE illustrate not only the toll vaccine-preventable diseases can have on families, communities, health systems, and nations, but also the corresponding benefits immunization confers at each level.

The VoICE Compendium synthesizes peer reviewed sources on complex immunization-related topics — from health equity to the cost of inaction — into simple key concepts and evidence that can be understood and adapted to meet your needs.

VoICE helps immunization advocates turn evidence into impact

500+

Evidence summaries from the latest peer-reviewed scientific publications

30+

Search for evidence across 6 primary topic areas and over 30 subtopics

25+

Pathogens and vaccines included in the VoICE database

Use VoICE to find evidence-backed key concepts, featured issues and graphics on the impact of immunization and vaccine-preventable diseases in areas such as poverty, equity, and health system strengthening.

Featured Issues

Browse the Featured Issues page to find in-depth examples of evidence in action. Each Featured Issue is developed using the content in VoICE focused on a specific disease, health system issue, or other topic.

Media Library

The Media Library provides a variety of visual assets to help immunization advocates illustrate the value of vaccines through presentations, social media content, and infographics. You can download these free visuals to help support your advocacy work.

Vaccine Resources

The Vaccine Resources page provides links to a variety of informational resources on vaccines and immunization. Advocates can find links to full text reports, maps, resource guides and policy recommendations housed on partner websites.

Stay connected with VoICE!

Follow on Twitter @VoICE\_Evidence or signing up to join our mailing list.

